

Rokkasen has received the Certificate of Excellence award from Tripadvisor, the world's largest travel website, five years in a row.

This year marks the eighth year of the Certificate of Excellence awards, which have been announced for locations all over the world.

Yakinikutei Rokkasen has received this award for five years in a row, starting in 2014.

In 2018, 527,111 locations all over the world received the Certificate of Excellence. In Japan, there were a total of 6,108, made up of 1,716 lodging facilities, 2,563 sightseeing spots, and 1,829 restaurants. The number of restaurants receiving the award for five years in a row was just 179.

What is the Tripadvisor Certificate of Excellence?

This award certifies the superior services provided by lodging facilities, restaurants, and sightseeing spots based on the comments of travelers all over the world.

1) Locations are chosen based on the word of mouth review scores of travelers on the site.

The Certificate of Excellence is in its 8th year, and this award is given to lodging facilities, sightseeing spots, and restaurants over the world listed on the site which have provided exceptional hospitality over the past year and received strong support from travelers as a result..

2018

Certificate of Excellence logo

2) This year, facilities receiving the award for five years in a row were also announced.

In Japan, there were 1,112 facilities who received the award five years in a row. Within these facilities, there were just 179 restaurants.

Official logo sent to facilities receiving the award for five years in a row